The innovative publishing concept of the "artifact inclusion" is based on timeline research that finds and reproduces rare historical artifacts and items such as programs, tickets, telegrams, newspaper articles and letters. These items facilitate an involvement of the reader with the memory joggers and placeholders in history that reveal a time evolution of both the AACA organization and the icon of the automobile itself. It is an entertaining and informative way of paying tribute to the significant milestones and personalities that shaped the growth and dynamics of the club today. As you browse the pages of this unusual presentation, you will have the opportunity to literally hold history in your hands. It is both a compelling and unforgettable experience.
